

FIGHTING RESUMED.

Japs Made Attack On a Fortified Ridge At Port Arthur.

Their Infantry Made a Charge, But They Were Checked by the Big Moats and the Terrible Fire of the Russian Guns.

London, Nov. 16.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent with the Japanese army before Port Arthur during the attack of the Japanese on the eastern occupied ridges on October 30, says: The terrific and continuous bombardment, night and day, from October 27 to October 30, culminated in wonderful practice, quite beyond criticism. With appalling rapidity countless bursting shells mingled their smoke into a dense, oscillating mass of vapor laden with earth and gleaming with flashes of fire, the climax being reached at 1 o'clock with a tremendous fire of shrapnel across the broken breastworks of the fortresses. Suddenly every gun ceased fire and the Japanese infantry rushed out from their parallels ere the hills had ceased reverberating with the thunder of the canonade from seven separate quarters against the Rihlung, Keekwan and Panlung fortified ridges. The attack was simultaneously developed with a single premonitory feint, fully 4,000 troops dashed out pell mell with fixed bayonets, waving standards and rending the air with shouts of "ban-zai."

The correspondent details how the various Japanese attacks were checked by the big moats and the terrible Russian fire, which rapidly depleted their ranks notwithstanding a clever covering fire of Japanese artillery, and says:

"It was most remarkable, even incredible, but fully substantiating surmises of their ability to withstand the fire of the heaviest Japanese ordnance how the Russians, despite the previous bombardment, replied from their fortress guns, although over 1,800 500-pound shells had been fired that day, not counting thousands of smaller projectiles.

Before half an hour had elapsed, and after losing 600 men, the Japanese abandoned the attack against the South Keekwan fort.

By 4 o'clock the Japanese fire had diminished in intensity and the assaults ceased shortly before sunset, when fire broke out in the new town of Port Arthur; and at nightfall the Japanese opened a shrapnel fire on the eastern ridge to cover the retirement of their isolated assaulters, whose situation was critical, between the east and the south Keekwan forts. The total Japanese casualties exceeded 2,000.

"Although the assaults failed in the capture of the main objective they absolutely unmasked the eastern Russian positions and their strength. The casualties are relatively small for although seven regiments were engaged, not half the troops issued from the parallels owing to the attacks being so skillfully manipulated and finally ceasing without supports being utilized. For strength the Russian position was unassailable and it would have been useless to endanger double the force and incur double the casualty in the same assault.

"After dusk the Russians sortied and recovered the ground lost between the east and south Keekwan forts. They recovered the P fort at 10 o'clock in the evening, but Gen. Ichinoye gallantly restored the hill and, despite 250 casualties, expelled the Russians by sheer dash and courage."

St. Petersburg, Nov. 17.—There is no official confirmation at this hour of the reported blowing up of the torpedo boat destroyer Ratsoropya at Che Foo. The understanding at the admiralty had been that the vessel would be hauled up on shore to prevent a repetition of the Ryeshiteln affair, and that she would be disarmed in regular course. Officials here state that nothing has yet been received to indicate that there has been any other procedure, but that the commander will be governed by local conditions. There is no inclination to blame him for taking any measures that might appear to him to be necessary.

Gen. Stoessel's report has not been given out, but a press representative understands that it contains no request for instructions regarding the surrender of Port Arthur. It is intimated that the report goes at considerable length into details of the recent fierce land fighting, but says that the interior line of defenses remain intact. Gen. Stoessel believes he will be able to withstand the Japanese assaults for some time to come.

Mukden, Nov. 17.—It has been generally quiet along the Russian line Wednesday, varied by occasional artillery exchanges. There have been fewer skirmishes for some days past. There is reason to believe that important developments will transpire shortly, and that possibly there will be heavy fighting.

Farewell Reception to Booth-Tucker. New York, Nov. 16.—A farewell reception to Commander Booth-Tucker, of the Salvation army, was tendered here Tuesday night at the Grand Central Palace, by the officers and privates of the army. The great hall was crowded.

Will Take Official Canvass to Settle It. Reno, Nev., Nov. 16.—The result of the election for congressman in this state is still in doubt. Both the republican and democratic committees claim a victory by about 40 votes. It will take the official canvass to decide.
